WEIGHT-LOSS MIRACLE #4

The European fat-burning therapy that melts a dress size every three sessions

Do you have fat deposits that won't budge? Then you might want to make like a European movie star. Many admit that they're so slender thanks to a technique called mesotherapy. First developed 50 years ago in Paris by Michel Pistor, M.D., mesotherapy is a series of injections—up to 500 tiny pricks per 30- to 60-minute session—that can liquefy flab anywhere on the body. "Dr. Pistor discovered that when certain medication is injected into the mesoderm—the middle layer of skin—it can melt the underlying fat," says Marion Shapiro, M.D., who traveled from her New Jersey offices to Europe to learn more. She's now one of about 15,000 doctors worldwide who use mesotherapy to stimulate fat loss for an ever-growing list of clients.

Roberta Flack is one of them. When the 5'2" singer's weight topped 200 pounds, she began mesotherapy—and says results were instant. "I saw my chins disappear," says the 62-year-old. "The fat dissolved in front of my eyes. I could feel my ribs! I

Years ago during an appearance on a TV talk show, the host said, "You'd be so beautiful if you lost weight," recalls Roberta. But that was then. Ever since she discovered the slimming secret of European movie stars, "people say, 'You look good!'" haven't felt them since I was 15." Want to give it a try? To find a certified mesotherapy practitioner near you, call 800-637-6362 or visit www.gomeso.com. Expect to pay at least $250 per session. Dr. Shapiro says about 20% of patients lose a dress size or more after their first treatment; the majority lose a size after three sessions. Ten sessions is the length of an average treatment.
