Alex and Simon at length discussed during our interview the trials and tribulations of being a good parent and how their knowledge and experience living in the Big Apple can help other parents in similar situations.

The couple also talked about their children's personalities, favorite bedtime stories and the upcoming season of The Real Housewives of New York City.

I also found some interesting news about Alex she shares the same birthday with Movie Star Legend Julie Andrews. We were discussing how rhyming literature can influence and inspire children's learning capabilities and the subject of Mary Poppins supercalifragilistic came up "Julie Andrews and I share the same birthday, October 1st," revealed Alex.

Their book on Parenting is set to launch at the end of April. To find out more info on the powerhouse Brooklyn couple please visit www.mccordvankempen.com

At the event I had a chance to chat with sexy French Artist Cyrille Margarit. Mr. Margarit jets around the world from the dangerous jungles of Africa to the glamorous cities of Europe to the fashionable Cannes Film Festival photographing amazing images of celebrities and landscapes.

Cyril's images and artwork of Paris were showcased at Bruno Jamais's Restaurant and Cyril revealed that 100 pieces were recently purchased from displaying his art creations. He also discussed his love of Manhattan and the most famous cabaret in the world, The Moulin Rouge in Paris.

Cherie and Marie stopped by to discuss their revolutionary product, Odorless, Organic, Non-Acetone Nailpolish Remover. The bottle contains a crystal that has been reiki charged and is known for its wide range of positive qualities in helping to promote physical psychological and emotional well being.
